WORKING WITH GOOGLE COLABORATORY

The following screenshots illustrate the steps to access Google Colaboratory:

- Search Results: A Google search for "google colab" displays results from <https://colab.research.google.com>. The results include links to "Google Colab", "Authorize with GitHub", "Google Colab Notebook", "Tensorflow with GPU", "Downloading files from GCS", "Python Data Science Handbook", and "Colaboratory".
- Welcome To Colaboratory (Sign-in Required): The interface shows the "Welcome To Colaboratory" page. A "Google sign-in required" dialog box is displayed, stating: "You must be logged in with a Google Account to continue." The dialog has "CANCEL" and "SIGN IN" buttons.
- Welcome To Colaboratory (Sign-in Complete): The "Google sign-in required" dialog box is closed, and the "Welcome To Colaboratory" page is fully visible. The page includes a "Table of contents" on the left and a main content area with sections like "What is Colaboratory?" and "Getting started".
- RAM and Disk Usage: The "Welcome To Colaboratory" page is shown with the "RAM" and "Disk" usage indicator highlighted by a red box. The indicator shows a green checkmark and the text "RAM" and "Disk".
